London Festival of Wine Exhibitors - Wine Tasting

London Festival of Wine Exhibitors - Wine Tasting London exhibitor list is an Italian  Wine Merchant, importing directly from small artisan producers, and selling directly to the public from their Oakham warehouse, or of course online or by telephone. Established in 1994 by cricket-mad Ben Robson, they'd originally intended to sell cricket bats too (we're not making this up), but instead have concentrated on their wine passion, adding a small range from sympatico producers in Spain and Portugal. See list of wines being poured wines available to buy and order on the day 1. Majolini, Franciacorta Pas Dose 'Aligi Sassu', 2008, Italy, £29.70 2. Vignano is an organic and biodynamic wine estate in Tuscany, whose range of wines has won multiple awards and very high scores from worldwide critics. Focused on Chianti and 'Super-Tuscan' red wines (though there is a little white), the family can trace their roots in Tuscany back to 1362, the date proudly embossed on their labels. Taste not just Sangiovese, but be surprised by Viognier, Petit Manseng and Pinot Noir too! See list of wines being poured
